The Circular Issued by Order of the President.

A SUSPICIAUS CASE IN NEW YORK CITY

Reports from All Infected Points-A De-crease in the Number of Cases in Bussis-Precautions Against It.

Washington, September 1.—President Har-ton and party reached Washington this orning a few minutes before 9 o'clock and at once driven to the executive man-The president's unexpected return to spital at this time was due to his deaire to consult with members of his cabinet now in the city as to what further meas-ures, if any, should be adopted by the gov-ernment to prevent the introduction of chol-era into this country. Secretary Charles Foster and Attorney General Miller are the only members of the cabinet now here and president has asked them to meet him at 11 o'clock this morning. Postmaster General Wanamaker is expected to arrive at 11:30 o'clock this morning and he also will be requested to attend the meeting.

Intil this conference is concluded nothing inite can be stated as to what action, if not alarmed, fully comprehends the gravity of the situation and nothing which the general government may properly do to lessen the chances of a cholera invasion will be left undone, while nothing definite can be

As to the president's return to Loon lake, it is probable that a start will be made to-morrow (Friday) afternoon, and it is alto-gether likely that the contemplated detour to Ogdensburg and other points in northern New York will be postponed until his final return trip. His purpose now is to return to Loon lake, by way of Plattsburgh, without making any stops. The president's letter of acceptance will not, it is stated, be made public today.

Mrs. Harrison's general health, it is said, continues to improve, but the nervous affec-tion with which she has suffered during the several months shows discouraging per-nce. It is not thought that it will be prodent for her to attempt to resume her sistence. It is most thought that it will be prudent for her to attempt to resume her social duties during the coming season and her place, no doubt, will be temporarily filled by other ladies of the president's household.

Twenty Days' Quarantha.

Washington, September 1.—At the request of the president, Assistant Secretary Spaulding, of the treasury department, and Dr. Wyman, suggeou general of the marine hospital, met the president and members of this cabinet at a conference at 11 o'clock this morning. After an hour's deliberation it was decided not to issue a special circular instead, which will soon be made public. The circular will, said Secretary Foster this afternoon, amount practically to twenty days' quaranthe of vessels, or a longer detention, if necessary. It will be coupled, however, it is understood, with the provision that it will be enforced where it is not in contravention of state laws. The issuance of the attorney general bearing on the question of certain rights of the government in the matter, which, it is thought, should accompany the circular.

The circular, issued later by direction of the president, is as follows:

"Treasury Department, Office of Supervising Surgeon General, United States Marine Hospital Service.—Washington, D. C., September 1.—To Collectors of Customs, Medical Officers Marine Hospital Service, Foreign Steamship Companies, State and Local Boards of Health: It having been officially declared that cholers is prevailing in various portions of Russia, Germany and France and at certain ports in Great Britain, as well as in Asia, and it having been made to appear that immigrants in large numbers are coming into the United States from the infected districts, aforesaid, and that they and their personal effects are liable to introduce cholera into the United States, and that vessels conveying them are thereby a direct menace to the public health; and it having been further shown that under the laws of the several states, quarantine detentions may be imposed upon these vessels a sufficient length of time to insure against the spreading of contagious diseases, it is hereby ordered that no vessel from any foreign port carrying immigrants shall be admitted to enter at any port of the United States until the said vessel shall have undergone a quarantine detention of twenty days—nless such detention is forbidden by laws of the state or regulations made thereunder—and of such greater number of days as may be fixed in each special case by the state authorities.

"This circular to take immediate effect except in cases of vessels aftost at this date, which will be made the subject of special case by the state authorities.

"This circular is signed by Walter Wyman, supervising general of the United States marine hospital service; Charles Foster, secretary of the treasury, and approved by the president.

Washinston. September 1.—The practical troduction of cholera. The authorities are determined, if possible, that no disease infected ship shall pass the points named and proceed so far toward a port as happened in the case of the Moravia, which went to within eight miles of the Battery of New York. The revenue steamer, Wimona, is expected to arrive at Delaware breakwater some time today from New Berne, N. C., which place she left several days ago under orders from the department. The revenue marine steamer, Crawford, stationed at Baltimore, will be detailed for fluty at Cape Charles quarantine station. The condenued revenue steamer, Ewing, has been fitted up for hospital service at Cape Charles, to which the passengers on infected vessels can be removed if the health officials think they are likely to convey the infection.

Sent to the Lower Bay.

Quarantine, N. Y., September 1.—The steamer Moravia was sent to the lower bay, two miles south of Swinburne island, this morning. Dr. Sanborn reports that there are no new cases on board. The Veendame's steerage passengers were this morning sent to Hoffman island, where the passengers will be bathed and the baggage and clothing disinfected, as Captain Vanderzee refused to allow the disinfecting process to be acdisinfected, as Captain Vanderzee refused to allow the disinfecting process to be accomplished on board the steamer. Health Officer Jenkins goes to New York this morning to attend a meeting of the city board of health.

The steamers Gallia and Lahn are detained until the five days' quarantine, required by the health regulations, have elapsed. The Gallia has 275 Russians and 175 Poles aboard. The salon passengers of both steamers will probably be allowed to land before night. The steamer Circassia left quarantine at 11 o'clock a. m. The Tentonic left for her dock at 11.30 o'clock. Some anxiety was felt for the welfare of the passengers on the Lahn and Gallia, as many of their passengers were known to have come through some of the infected localities. Both vessels came into port last night, coming from Bremen, and well freighted as she was with returning tourists, who were to have passed through many places in Europe, that have become infected with the plague during the last formight, the Lahn was regarded with suspicion by Dr. Jenkins and his deputies Dr. Talmadge was directed to examine every passenger, both cabin and steerage, and to see that the ship was fumigated thoroughly.

Filling Before the Doctors.

The morning papers had got aboard the steamer before the doctor's boat pulled alongside, and the passengers were not surprised, though they were much annoyed when Dr. Talmadge announced that they were to be detained at least twenty-four hours. There was considerable grumbling. The cabin passengers were first marched in single file before the two doctors, Drs. Sanborn and Talmadge. Each passenger was closely acrutinized. They were all found to be in good health. The examination of the record cable. tion of the second cabin passengers followed with the same good result. The exam

Rev. Father Callahan, of the Mission of Our Lady of the Rosary, cabled to The Freeman's Journal, Dublin, today as follows: "Cholera here at last. We would advise all intending Irish immigrants to remain at home until the danger is past."

Colonel Steder, superintendent of immigration, said this morning that he believed that the cholera would undoubtedly get into this city. He believed there is as great danger of its being brought here by the cabin as by the steerage passengers. He said cabin passengers should be quarantined as well as steerage, in order to protect the country from the plague.

Considerable excitement was occasioned by the report that the captain of the Moravia went ashore on Staten island last might. Health Officer Jenkins acknowledged that such was the fact and said he immediately ordered the captain back to his ship. Dr. Jenkins stated, however, that the captain had had no intercourse with the infected part of the ship. The scene about the health offices during the morning was one of intense excitement. People came in crowds to inquire about friends returning from Germany and other foreign ports. Staten islanders are much alarmed over the nearness of the disease. In past years, owing to the proximity of hospital islands and quarantine grounds, they have suffered terribly from yellow fever, cholera and smallpox epidemics.

The Stek on the Moravia.

The Stek on the Moravia.

The stemship Moravia, which arrived from Hamburg Tuesday night, having had twenty-two deaths from cholera among her passengers during the trip, was ordered this morning down to the lower quarantine, two miles south of Swinburne island. She lay in Gravesend bay last night and at daybreak hoisted a yellow flag, warning all vessels to give her a wide berth. No new cases of the disease have broken out among her passengers Dr. Talmadge, after working among the vessels in the upper quarantine this morning, visited the Moravia. He was met by Captain Shiele and the ship. The women who were attacked with the disease on the voyage he

New York Cleaning the Streets.

A special meeting of the board of health was held this morning, at which were present, besides members of the board of health, an officer of Port Jenkins and President Martin, of the board of police. The board appointed fifty special choiers inspectors. Forty-five of that number had been members of the corps of summer physicians. The construction committee of the aqueduct commission passed a resolution yesterday calling upon the chief engineer of the commission to cause an immediate examination to be made of all sources of water supply, and to take the necessary steps to abate any nuisance which may be found.

The mayor has received a letter from Acting Commissioner of Street Cleaning Daton saying that orders had been issued to officers of his department to be extraordinarily vigilant and attentive to their duties; that additional men had been placed in thickly populated parts of the city, and that sweepings were nemoved several times a day and the gutters flushed with water. Disintectants were being used at the danps and nothing would be left unline to keep every man in the department up 1) his work. A physician of the health department today said to a reporter: "Yes, the order for Dr. Sanborn to shoot any man who attempts to board the Moravia is in dead earnest and you can depend upon it that it will be carried out. There will be no trifling hereafter with the regulations. Hamburg is now the port from which the most dauger is anticipated. The clearances there in the year are larger than they are here in New York and this will give you some idea of the magnitude of the shipping interest over there. Its quarantine system is not nearly as perfect as Bremen's. The latter port is much better protected than any other continental port that I know of. The quarantine regulations of England's carelessness in this respect may be attributed the outbreak there. Hamburg clears upward of nine phousand vessels a year. The danger will be in their cargoes of rags like mist."

A Suspicious Case in New York.
Captain Cross, of the police department, reports tonight that he was informed by Dr Beck, of 94 Rivington street, that he attended a man named Etwinan, who lived on the fourth floor of No. 95 Orchard street, and that he found him manifesting symptoms of cholera. The man he said was a Kussian and arrived on Sunday on the steamer Russia. The board of health was notified.

Is this cholera? The sick man's name is Joseph Etwinan. He lives with his sisters, Fannie and Pauline, aged twenty-two and eighteen years, respectively, and his mother, in three rooms. He was taken sick this afternoon and vomited. Dr. Beck was called in. He went to the station house and fold Captain Cross that the man might lare cholera. The captain notified the board of health and an officer visited the sick man. He said the sickness was not cholera and was not serious. Tomght Dr. Beck could not be found. There are sixty or seventy families in the house and none of them intrayed any alarm. The siek man's sisters said they did not believe the patient was suffering from cholers.

Rigorous quagantine exists here against the entire world outside of North America. Petitioning the Fresident.

Philadelphia, September 1.—The city council this afternoon passed a resolution petitioning the president to issue a prochamation forbidding immigration during the continuance of the cholera epidemic. Considerable comment has been occasioned because of the favor shown John A. Clark, ex-councilman, who was taken off the steamship British Princess, now quarantined here, by his personal friends, Drs. San Francisco, Cal., September 1.—The health officers here are taking every precaution against the cholera. Quarantine Doctor Lawler has ordered all vessels arriving from Alaska rigidly inspected. He fears cholera might be brought over from Russia by way of Alaska. All incoming trains from Portland and Ogden will be inspected before passengers are allowed to enter California. Chinatown is being inspected and the city will be thoroughly cleaned.

inspected before passengers are allowed to enter California. Chinatown is being inspected and the city will be thoroughly clenned.

At Hamburg and Havre.

Hamburg, September 1.—There has been a considerable change in the panicky feeling prevailing here in consequence of the reduction of cholera. The official report of cholera for yesterday showed a great falling off, both in the number of new cases and deaths. A general feeling of relief was experienced, but those acquainted with the peculiarities of the disease, knew temporary cessations of its fury were characteristic. Yesterday only 139 new cases and forty-five deaths were reported. The city, however, presents a most funereal appearance. There is scarcely a house in streets along the water front from which several victims of the disease have not been taken. In some instances houses are entirely vacated, all their occupants being dead. There is yet no resumption of general business and so many shops are closed that the streets have a Sunday look. There is a steady stream of vehicles conveying the dead to the cemeteries, and it is thought that by tonight hundreds of bodies that should have been disposed of. The greater part of the four hundred bodies reported yesterday as lying uncared for in a drillshed have been interred. Great interest has been aroused by the simple, but seemingly effectual, treatment of warm salt water injection recommended by Professor Northnagel and Professor Knhler. It is claimed that this treatment has reduced the death rate 50 per cent.

Havre, September 1.—There were fifty nine new cases of cholera yesterday and nineteen deaths. The epidemic has thus far been confined to quarters of the city occupied by workingmen, who pay no attention whatever to hygienic instructions.

Salt Ste. Marie, Mich., September 1.-The fish tug E. M. B. The Western Reserve, up bound, and light left Soo canal Tuesday afternoon, having on board, as passengers, Captain Peter Minch, her owner; his wife, three children and his wife's sister, besides a regular crew of twenty-two hands. The rest of her short history is best told in the words of Stewart:

Everything went well until about sixty miles above Whitefish, when first the warning any one on board had of the impending danger was a terrible crash about 9 o'clock a. m., caused by the huge craft breaking in two and breaking the main mast about half way up the rigging. She took in water fast from the start, and the yawl boats were lowered. Captain Minch, his family and officers and crew to the number of seventeen, got into a wooden yawi, and the others took to a metallic one. The Reserve sank in ten minutes, and, before she had hardly gone out of sight, the metallic yawl capsized. The other yawl went to her assistance, but only succeeded in rescuing two of her occupants, Captain Myers's son and Stewart.

The nineteen survivers started for Whitefish, sixty miles away. The wind Whitefish, sixty miles away. The wind was about west when they started, but veered to the north, making a considerable sea. The yawl weathered the breakers all night, and when about ten miles from life-saving station No. 10, and about a mile from shore, it capsized. Stewart says that he saw none of the occupants after that. He struck out for the shore, and was in the water two hours. He struck the shore about ten miles above the station, and had to walk there before the station, and had to walk there before reaching any one to render him assistance A search failed to find a trace of any other surviver of the wreck. The Western Reserve was one of the largest and finest of new steamers on the akes. She was built by the Cleveland Ship Building Company, and launched October 20, 1890. She was valued at $220,000. She was 300 feet long and forty-one feet beam. She was considered a thoroughly staunch and seaworthw

Norton, Va., September 1.—(Special.)—This is the last night on earth for Talton Hall, the Kentucky desperado and alleged murderer of so many men, and he is preparing to shuffle off in a gleeful manner, as liquor is constantly pouring down his throat. For two days he has been more or less under its influence and most any visitor to his cell is permitted to give him a drink.

It is predicted by many that he will cheat the gallows by committing suicide tonight. His sister, Mrs. Bades, was in conference with him a long time this afternoon and gave him some tea. What it might have contained there is no telling.

The conversation with his sister was long and earnest. He told her there were three men whom she must put out of the way if she had to sell the cattle on every hill and all the feathers in the tick. He refused to give her their names, saying he would do so tomorrow on the scatfold.

It is thought he had reference to Judge Skeen, who sentenced nim, and Trivate Detective Pride and Dr. Taylor, who is now confined in jail for the killing of Moonshiner Ira Mullins and family at Pound Gap. It will be remembered that Taylor is his bit ter enemy and he busied himself in Hall's capture.

Last night Hall applied the blaze from his lamp to the bed clothes and would have burned the jail but for the timely arrival of the guards.

He made an attempt twice. When questioned as to his reason he laughingly replied that he wanted to smoke "Doc" Taylor out of the adjoining cell.

Two reporters called at the cell late this evening. He was dressed elegantly in a fitting sunt of tlack. His conversation flowed fluently and wittily.

"You see," he said, "in order to keep my spirits up I have to keep the spirits down," and he asked for another drink, which was given him. Hall informed the reporters that he was certain to go to 'heaven.

Father Luckie, the Catholie priest of Lynchburg, will be here tonight and will remain with Hall, who is a member of his church.

The chief grievance against care is a combination to defeat Senator Sanders, the present United States senator from Montana, with the idea of having Carter succeed him. With the chairman working in his own personal interest to the neglect of the welfare of the party at large, the dissatisfaction among the republican party leaders is only a natural. They would be glad to exchange Carter for William J. DOWN IN BURKE.

DOWN IN BURKS.

The and Kemp Afraid of a Joint Debete.
Lester Makes a Ringing Speech.

Waynesboro, Ga., September 1.—(Speed.)—Today has been a grand rally for mocracy in Burke county. It was anyunced that Mr. Watson would be among a speakers here today at the people's parbarbete and it was also known that the mocrats would yield to most any kind of true for a joint debate. It was announced weral days ago that Mr. Watson would be come and he did not come. Messrs, seek and Kemp showed up, however. When division of time was asked by the demonsts it was refused.

Everybody went out. Hon. W. H. Davis ked to make a statement; it was refused hen he asked the chairman to state that rumor had gone out from some source at the democrats were there for a distrance. He said that the democrats there are gentlemen and were here to aid in ceping order and would be instructed, possible, by the speaker. He again asked at division of time and it was refused. The applause that followed showed that mong the whites present the democrats are largely in the majority.

Mr. Kemp spoke first as the people's parcandidate for congress. Once only, after peaking thirty minutes, a faint applause as elicited. Congressman Rufus E. Less, of the first district, was in the audience, at was refused a hearing by the managers the people's party meeting.

When Colonel Peek started to speak he sgan to assign a reason why the demonats were not given a division of time, don. W. H. Davis promptly reminded him such was characterised by hitterness and moun, meeting at any respectful question also do a was characterised by hitterness and thom, meeting at any respectful question also do a conservative man.

He said: "If the democrats have not been no power at Washington city every year but wo for the past twenty years I will turn an alligator, and I will prove it by the cord." He at once told a stale anecdote and never made any attempt to prove his service.

H. Davis in a few eloquent sentences introduced him. After deafening applause he said:

"I certainly feel at home at your kind reception. I certainly have a right to feel at home, as my eyes first saw the light in this grand old county, and I thank God that the bones of my forefathers rest beneath its sod. If I have not been actually with you since as a citizen in person I have been in spirit. I come before you as a candidate for congress, a Jeffersonian democrat. I am indeed sorry that there have been some here today who would not hear me, that there are some men whom I wanted to see who did not want to see me, but I declare to you that honesty is the best course after all. He who would be dishonest in one thing would be in another; he who would steal in politics deserves to be ostracised, and he who would lie to you in all things."

He closed in an eloquent peroration. It was a Watson rally in conception, but a grand triumph for Congressman Lester and democracy in Burke county. The recent primary and the demonstration today proves the county for democracy two to one,

DR. HAND, OF BAKER,

Is Nominated by the Third Party to Oppos

Albany, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)— The third party convention of the second congressional district met here today but instead of being a real convention it materialized in a secret caucus, held in a room at the Central hotel. It was given the leaders that the convent would assemble in the courthouse at 2 o'clock, but when the crowd got together for a secret caucus it was so small that they were afraid to make an exhibition of aselves in so public a place as the court-themselves in so public a place as the courthouse.

There were several names talked of for the nomination, the most prominent being those of Dr. I. H. Hand, of Baker, and Dr. M. A. Baldwin, of Randolph. Dr. Hand was nominated almost unanimously. Weaver, Peek and Watson were endorsed with a shout and then the convention proceeded to discuss the advisability of getting up a people's party organ for the district. This they decided to do and in all probability they will purchase The Globe, which is published at Bainbridge, in Decatur county, and which has already exhibited some third party tendencies. The committee appointed to supervise this matter consists of C. H. Thomas, W. B. McDaniel and L. O. Jackson, of Decatur, and W. M. Tomlin, of Randolph.

Dr. J. H. Picketts, of Worth, was chairman of the convention and W. B. McDaniel, of Decatur, secretary. There were about thirty delegates present and perhaps a dozen more who were not delegates. All the counties were represented but Dougherty, which has no third party. The affair was tame as compared with the democratic convention of two weeks ago.

Hon. O. B. Stevens, Colonel J. L. Hand, of Mitchell, and Colonel R. John Tripplett, of Thomasville, were on hand ready, if the chance presented itself, to strike a blow in the interest of democracy.

DOOLY COUNTY'S REPRESENTATIVES.

The Result of the Primaries—A Public Meeting in Cordele.

Ing in Cordele.

Cordele, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—
The democratic primary for county officers in Dooly county today resulted quite satisfactorily. Four hundred more votes were polled than any election has ever brought out. Since 3 o clock this afternoon faithful democrats have waited at the telegraph office and received bulletins from the different precincts. W. C. Coney, chairman of the county executive committee, has worked very hard to bring out Dooly's full democratic strength. The result has surprised and greatly pleased him, showing conclusively that the third party has gone out of business in Dooly.

The returns have all been received except from a few small precincts, nominating Dr. R. H. Pate and T. D. Pate for the legislature.

A public meeting will be held at the opera house tomorrow to discuss the various matters pertaining to Cordele's prosperity. Major W. L. Glessner and Major J. T. Hanson, of Macon, have been invited to be present and speak.

Who Will Lead the Party to Victory-The

Blackshear, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)
Pierce county's democratic convention was held today and resulted in the namination of Ezekiel M. Crawford for the senate from the third district and E. Lawton Walker for the house.

Mr. Crawford is a farmer, a straightout democrat, and is highly respected as a aman of strict integrity and uprightness of character. His nomination by the democratic party means his election, notwithstanding he is opposed by Joseph Dixon, the people's party nominee. The nomination of Mr. Crawford is remarkable, in that it is a case of the office seeking the man.

Mr. Walker, nominee for representative, is a young man of sterling integrity and will unqestionably be elected. He is opposed by Thomas N. Sweat, the people's party nominee. When the elections are over in November, Pierce county will be found in the democratic column as usual.

HARRIS COUNTY'S NOMINEES.

The Primaries There Show That the Third Party Has No Strength.

Hamilton, Ga., September 1.—(Special.) The official vote of Harris county's primary was consolidated today, electing the following named gentlemen: Messrs. Booker and Hudson, for representatives, Williams for ordinary, Hadley for treasurer, Truett for clerk of the superior court, Goodman for surveyor, Webb for coroner, Kimbrough for sheriff, Pearce for tax collector and Fort for receiver.

There were polled 638 votes in the county of 1,036 voters. This will give the third party a black eye, as it deserves, by the strong hand of true democracy. Nearly all of the old county officers were nominated and no doubt will be elected by a good majority.

Old Harris still stands true and purely democratic. Several third party men came up and declared, by voting the democratic ticket, that they had had enough third party in theirs.

Judge Crisp at Knexville.

Knexville, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)

Hon. Charles F. Crisp addressed an audience of upwards of one thousand people at the courthouse this morning. Mr. Crisp interested the audience for two hours by giving them some fine pure democratic thoughts. During the progress of his speech Mr. Crisp was often interrupted by applause that fairly made the walls of the court room ring. There were several third party men in the audience, who, after listening to such a grand matter of fact apooch, say that they never had any idea of leaving the democratic party. Crawford county and the third congressional district may be marked down on the democratic list.

A Rousing Democratic Rally at Watkinsville Yesterday.

RINGING SPEECHES FROM DEMOCRATS

rimaries in a Number of Counties—The Outlook in All Parts of the State Is All That Could Be Desired.

Athens, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)— The democracy was in the saddle today in Oconee county. The grand rally at Wat-kinsville was one of the biggest affairs of kinsville was one of the biggest analys of the campaign and nearly three thousand peo-ple crowded into the academy grove to hear the distinguished speakers present. The en-tire hillside was covered with people. The ladies were out in large numbers and were specially enthusiastic.

Judge Edmond Thrasher presided over the meeting and introduced the speakers of the morning. Judge E. F. Edwards, of Newton, nominee for senator for the twenty-seventh district, made a short opening ech, which was well received.

Congressman Lawson. Judge Thomas G. Lawson then spoke to the people and his speech bore mainly upon the financial policy of the democracy. He denied the assertion that the government loans money to the national banks at 1 per cent and proved this statement conclusively. He showed, from the report of the treasurer, that the charge that Cleveland loaned $60,000,000 to the national banks is absurd and without foundation. Judge absurd and without foundation. Judge Lawson's speech was clear and logical and did good work.

Colonel Jim Smith. Colonel Jim Smith, of Oglethorpe, was the next speaker and he made one of the greatest speeches of his life. The crowd paid strict attention to his speech, whichwas especially strong in regard to the raising of home supplies. When he mentioned Tom Watson the third partyites yelled loudly, but didn't yell so much when the colonel Tom Watson the third partyites yelled loudly, but didn't yell so much when the colonel finished with him. The third partyites interrupted Colonel Smith a great deal right here, but were decidedly worsted.

When the speech was concluded dinner was announced, but the crowd wanted Smith to continue his speech. The barbecue was served and was one of the most delightful and orderly barbecues ever spread in Georgia. Everybody pronounced it an admirably conducted affair and the eatables were such as Oconee county alone can put up.

Governor Northeu's Speech.

After dinner Judge George C. Thomas introduced the speakers. Governor Northen spoke first and for one hour and a half held the closest attention of the large crowd, as he defended the democracy and scored third partyism. His expose of the infamous record of Weaver was complete and had its effect on the crowd, and when he mentioned the name of Cleveland the crowd cheered to the echo. Governor Northen's speech was a very able effort.

Elector B. M. Blackburn followed in a short but beautiful and effective speech upon the force bill and the pensions. His time was limited as he had to catch a train, but while he was there he made the fur fly and applause came at quick intervals.

fur fly and applause came at quick intervals.

John Shannon Shelled the Woods.

Elector J. P. Shannon, of the eighth district, made a notable speech. The crowd had listened to speaking for several hours when he arose but as he warmed up to his subject and elucidated with rich anecdotes and convincing logic, the principles of democracy, the crowd drew nearer to the stand. The tariff, free silver, pensions, force bill and all the issues of the day passed in review and his speech set the crowd to thinking. His presentation was the clincher. He showed how some people's party men had said they had rather see Harrison elected than Cleveland; how the only rsult of the third party would be to aid in Harrison's triumph and then read from the July Arena the words of Tom Watson, "The success of republicanism means the end of the government of, for and by the people." The county of Oconee will go democratic.

An Irate Woman Uses the Book as a Weano and Knocks Out Two Lawyers. Savannah, Ga., September 1.—(Special.) Two of Savannah's most prominent young lawyers, Thomas Morgan and Paul Seabrooke, felt the wrath of an enraged female in a decidedly unpleasant manner today. There has been some difficulty between the lawyers and Mrs. Quinn over money the lawyers and Mrs. Quinn over money matters. Today she invaded the offices and assaulted them with an umbrella. She is of powerful physique and the umbrella was too insignificant a weapon for her, so she picked up the Georgia code and knocked the lawyers down on a sofa with it. She was subsequently arrested and will be tried in the city count this morning on a charge of assault and battery. The lawyers will prosecute her and an immense crowd is expected to be present.

The lawyers had some trouble some time ago with Mrs. Quinn over the same matter.

A Well-Known Young Man a Candidate for Ordinary of Giyan.

Brunswick, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—
Today E. E. Twitty, a prominent young attorney and one of the stanchest democrats that ever dropped a ballot in the box, an nounced to his friends that he was a candidate for ordinary to fill Blain's unexpired term. Twitty was one of the most active democrats in Turner's behalf during the recent campaign and won maky additional warm friends by his aggressive work during that memorable political fight in the eleventh district. He is unswerving in his democracy and will receive and he has been promised the cordial and enthusiastic support of the Brunswick citizens. In the county he will poll a heavy vote, and there is even at this early date every indication that he will sweep the county.

GEORGIA BRIEFS.

An interesting protracted meeting has been in progress at the Baptist church of Carrollton for the past three weeks, conducted by the pastor, Dr. Isaac P. Cheney, and Rev. J. A. Howard, of Baltimore. There have been twenty accessions to the church, and the meeting is still in progress.

Major Thomas H. West, a wealthy and highly respected citizen of Carrollton is at the point of death. Major West has been a clines of Carrollton, has amounced as a candidate for mayor. The election will be held the first Saturday in October, E. G. Kramer, W. M. Mesdawa, John N. Criden, and E. B. Brodnax will be the councilmen. September will usher in another industry for LaGrange, and one that is much needed—the LaGrange steam laundry, Messra, H. A. Turner and George Hanson have fitted up a nice laundry, witch will meet all demands.

Work has been commenced on the foundation of the new office building to be erected by Dr. Robert Battey at the corner of Broad street and Second avenue in Rome. It will be four stories high, and will be by far the most elegant and coatly business building in Rome.

Charley Hillman, colored, while working on the builtheads at Hawk's gally, near Augusta, last night, had his leg broken just above the knee by a falling timber.

Tirst bales of cotton are reported at La-Grange, Norwood and Culloden.

At Cartersville, the third party people, of Barriow, selected Dr. W. I. Benham and Dr. T. H. Baker for representatives.

few Which Faction Will Do It—A Meet-ing Held Last Night at Which A. A. Murphey Presided.

The 1800 Club is to be reorganized. Two factions of the club want to do the reorganizing, and it's going to be a hard fight between them to decide which faction will rol the club in the future.

control the club in the future.

Last night one faction met and laid down its plan of operations. It may be termed as the Murphey faction, as Azmon A. Murphey presided over the meeting, and the thirty-seven club members present seemed to be in favor of him. The other faction is headed by Captain W. H. Brotherton, and its watchword is anti-Murphey. It was founded on the idea that the success was founded on the idea that the success of the 1890 Club depended upon not only the resignation of Azmon Murphey as president, but his withdrawal from the club as a member. But President Murphey had his partisans and they held to him as their

Last night's meeting was called for all the members of the 1890 Club, but it was noticeable that the anti-Murphey faction was absent.

Vice President C. W. Sampler called the meeting to order and Secretary J. M. George was in his place as of old. In a few moments President Murphey came in, valise in hand, just off the Macon train, and he at once took hold of the gavel, and began to run things in his characteristic

The principal matter for consideration was the debt owed by the club to Mr. Murphez, amounting to $750.

About three months ago the club undertook the job of getting up the money to liquidate this debt. A committee of four, consisting of Messrs. Olin Claridy, Dr. J. O. Perkins, Maddox and W. J. Albert, was appointed to get up the money. These gentlemen began work at once, and several of them got up pretty good sums. They say that Captain W. H. Brotherton also worked with the committee in getting up subscriptions and succeeded in getting up about $350. This, they say, with the money turned over to him by other members of the committee makes $500 in his hands for the purpose of paying the Murphey debt.

A meeting was held on Monday night, and a committee was appointed to call on Captain Brotherton and see about paying the Murphey claim. "He told us," said Mr. J. M. George, one of the committee, "that he would turn over the money in his possession to my the indebtedness, if Murphey would resign the presidency of the club, and withdraw from it as a member. The committee proposed that Mr. Murphey would resign the presi-dency of the club, but would remain as a member. Captain Brotherton said he would consider the proposition, and make his reply in writing. Mr. J. F. Walker was to call for the report and have it at the meeting tonight. Mr. Walker could not do so and Dr. Lumpkin called on Captain Brotherton for it. He refused to give it, so we do not know what he is going to do."

At the meeting last night the proposition was made to Mr. Murphey that the hall be turned over to a board of trustees which should assume the responsibilities of the member. Captain Brotherton said he would should assume the responsibilities of the lessee and the liabilities of the club. Mr. Murphey agreed to this and a board of trustees was elected.

The board elected was as follows: Dr. J. O. Perkins, president; J. F. Walker, treasurer: Olin Claridy, secretary; J. M. George, C. W. Sampler.

The transfer of the lease of the hall will be made from Mr. Murphey to the board of trustees, the 1890 Club will be reorganized, a successor will be elected to President Murphey, and his bill against the club will be paid. That is if the other faction doesn't play a trump card and knock this outlined programme into a cocked hat.

play a trump card and knock this outlined programme into a cocked hat.

Captain Brotherton hasn't shown his hand yet, and the other fellows don't know but that it is a winner.

They intend to find out today, however. The committee of four appointed to get up money to pay the debt, to which reference has already been made, was instructed at last night's meeting to call on Captain Brotherton today and request him to turn over to the committee the money which they say he has in hand to pay to Mr. Murphey. They say that some of this money was subscribed on condition that Murphey would sever all his connection with the club. The meeting last night instructed the committee to tell Captain Brotherton to return all such money to the persons who paid it in.

The trouble will come to a crisis today when the committee calls on Captain Brotherton and asks for a surrender of the funds which it says he has in hand. The committee will lay down the plan of campaign adopted by the meeting last night and what reply Captain Brotherton will make remains to be seen.

Mr. Murphey does not entertain the friendliest feelings toward Captain Brotherton. He has written the following card in which he tells of the trouble:

Mr. Murphey Makes a Proposition.

Editor Constitution—For the past six or eight months I have been very busy, attending strictly to private business. The earnest desire of my heart has been that the newspapers would let me rest, at least, for a while, contented in the quietude of my own private affairs.

desire of my heart has been that the newspapers would let me rest, at least, for a while, contented in the quietude of my own private affairs.

It seems, however, the reporters have either a special spite at me, or else think the public is especially interested in what I am thinking of doing.

If reporters will write of me only the truth, I guarantee there will be occasion neither for denial on my part nor for attempt at assessination on their part,

There are so many misstatements in your issue of yesterday in an article concerning myself and the 1890 Club, I feel it my duty to the club and justice to myself to ask the publication of a reply.

1. The 1890 Club does not owe me $800, as you state. The club, as a club, owes me only about seventy dollars—money advanced by me for current expenses. There is an unpaid balance of nearly seven hundred dollars of the amount advanced by me to complete Prohibition hall. For the payment of this $700 I hold no individual nor set of individuals legally responsible. I advanced the money of my own free will and accord on the security of the lease.

2. You say "President Murphey says he turnished most of the wind, and he made the lease of the hall." If I had only furnished "wind," there would have been no occasion for all this talk and newspaper discussion. I had to take the lease in my own name because no other financially responsible members of the club would sign it with me, fearing that it slight cost them something, as it has cost me in the amount of $700. I begred all the officer in financially responsible members of the club whether the money, there would have been no Prohibition hall.

3. You say "My amon Murphey wants his money badly." Not so. I am neither measy nor in the lease worked over the money, there would have been no Prohibition hall.

3. You say "My amon Murphey wants his money badly." Not so. I am neither measy nor in the lease worked over the matter. It is entirely with the club whether the money, there would have been no Prohibition hall.

3. You say "My a

him as saying: "I haven't attended a meeting of the 1840 Club in some time. I was opposed to that last campaign." Of course. He was "at a meeting in a third story with another crowd."

6. You quote Captain Brotherton also as saying: "I suppose Mr. Murphey will resign, as he has moved to Macon." Now, Mr. Reporter, ask the captain if that is the real reason why he "supposes Murphey will resign." Ask him if it is merely a "supposition," and not a fond "desire with a purpose." There is "an interesting story affoat in consection with this business," but your reporter evidently is not "on to it" yet. "One of the initiated says that Captain Brotherton, who leads the anti-Murphey people, has already in hand $500 with which to pay the late leader off." Now, if Captain Brotherton will give the names of the parties who subscribed this $500, and state the conditions upon which and the purposes for which it was subscribed then, if that information truthfully given does not an interesting tale unfold. I'll agree to evolve from it a story that will be most interesting to the reading public of Atlants.

You say there is a Murphey and an anti-Murphey faction in the club, and that Captain Brotherton is leader of the anti-Murphey faction. If this be true, I have a proposition to make to Captain Brotherton to test his sincerity and my popularity. It is this: If Captain Brotherton will turn over unconditionally to the club "the $500 in hand." I will turn over the lease unconditionally, excepting that he and I, after thirty days notice, are to run for precident of the club, and in the event to the club "the $500 in hand," I will turn over the lease unconditionally, excepting that he and I after thirty days notice, are to run for president of the club, and in the event he beats me I'm to donate to the club the $200 balance due me and resign my membership; but in the event I beat him, he is to pay me the $200 and resign his membership. In other words. I'll donate $200 to the club if the Brotherton followers outnumber the so-called "Murphey faction." Now, let Captain Brotherton either "put up or shut up."

NEXT WEEK'S CONVENTION-The Local Committee of Engineers Would

Atlanta will certainly be crowded next

Atlanta will certainly be crowded next week. The stationary engineers are coming in numbers, and they will be accompanied by a great many machinery supply men.

This convention will be conspicuous for the prominent manufacturers and mechanical entineers who are members. Atlanta will have a splendid chance to capture three or four large industries.

The local members of the organization are working earnestly to make such arrangements that the visitors will get a most agreeable impression of the city. Very little encouragement of the substantial kind has been tendered the committee. About one thousand dollars more is needed to carry out the arrangements. Omnha made up a liberal purse last year for the convention, and it paid the city back handsomely, for these new enterprises, with a payroll of $42,000 a month, were located in the city by members of the body.

The convention is not by any means made up solely of men who ran engines, but among the delegates are presidents and managers of great manufacturing companies, and besides these there are inventors and the finest mechanical engineers in the country. The local committee would appreciate subscriptions.

A MIDNIGHT. CAMPAIGN SPEECH.

Hon. Porter King Steals a March on H Opponents.

While his opponents in the legislative race were enjoying their midnight slumbers last night, Hon. Porter King was making a campaign speech.

The speech began at exactly 12:27 o'clock this morning and ended just one minute later, it was a good speech and was greeted with hearty applause.

It was a stolen march on his opponents, but it was a stolen march on his opponents, but it was a good one.

If the early bird catches the traditional worm the late bird ought to stand some show, too.

When the midnight watch of the police force came off duty Mr. King was in the roll call room. When Captain Moss finished calling the roll and while the men were still in ranks, Captain Moss introduced Mr. King to his men, The latter made a neat little speech of one minute, which evoked a round of applause.

At last, however, the boys are to be provided for in a proper way. Their new building is centrally located on Edgewood avenue in the building formerly occupied by the Southern Medical college. The grounds are spacious and shady, affording a large opportunity for recreation and physical development at recess. The place is easily accessible by street cars to all portions of city. The rooms are comfortable and well lighted. The school has an able and enthusiastic faculty. Most excellent reenthusiastic faculty. Most excellent re-sults are sure to follow. Atlanta is to be congratulated upon her Boys' High school, and The Constitution predicts brilliant re-

Mr. W. M. Slaton, the principal, is a man of splendid character and excellent administrative ability. He graduated with distinction at the University of Georgia in 1873, at the age of eighteen. He won the friendship and confidence of the faculty while at college, and carried from his alma mater the highest testimonials of Chancellor Lipscomb and his colleagues. Mr. Slaton began teaching as soon as he received his diploma, and has remained steadfast in his profession ever since. He was elected principal of the high school at Sparta on after graduating. The school was taken in a dilapidated and unpopular condition, but he soon made it prospersous in members and methods. He made many friends among the pupils, patrons and people of Sparta. In 1881 he was unanimously elected by the board of education of the Atlanta public schools to be teacher of the first grade of the Boys' High school. In 1887 he was chosen by the same body by a unanimous vote to teach the second grade. During the eleven years that Mr. Slaton has taught in the Boys' High school, he has received the warmest encomium of the boys, the patrons, the board and the The New Faculty.

He has energy and the confidence of the people. His personal friends are numerous. A great deal of the success of the Boys' High school has been due to his personality.

Mr. Slaton has shown great interest in the Young Men's library, of which he was president for the two years past. His work in that institution is universally recognized. In 1850-90 he was director for Georgia of the National Educational Association. He is a constant attendant upon the annual sessions of the National Educational Association, keeping in touch with the brightest educators in the United States. In 1887 he was appointed by the late Dr. Ort. The was state school commissioner, to the char of mathematics in the Peshody to the char of mathematics in the Peshody work performed. In 1891 he was appointed by Governor Northen on the board of visitors to the University of Georgia, and was elected chairman of the board. This summer he was invited by the Monteagle management to take the chair of mathematics in that gathering of southern culture and wealth. He was elected also this summer by the state commission to fill the chair of mathematics in the normal school at Athens. Several years ago he was asked to accept the superintendency of schools in a Texas city, but preferred to remain in Atlanta. It is seen that Mr. Slaton's work in education is respected in Georgia and in other states.

In June the board of education unanimously elected him principal of the Boys' High school. His executive and organizing power will here have full opportunity. He impresses his boys with esprit de corps without which a school, no less than an

L. M. LANDRUM, Second Grade Boys' High Sc is a failure. His election gives uni-satisfaction, and the success of the versal satisfaction, and the school is already assured.

Mr. L. M. Landrum has charge of the second grade. He is an intelligent, experienced teacher of pleasant address and earnest purpose. He graduated with honor at the University of Georgia, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the Boys' High school. He did thorough and satisfactory work in the Athens normal school this summer. Mr. Landrum has a number of friends who are happy over his promotion to the high school. He was for several years the efficient principal of Walker street grammar school.

Professor M. L. Brittain.

Mr. M. L. Brittain teaches section A of the first grade. He graduated with honor at Emory college and illustrates his alma mater in a chivalrous and scholarly manner. He is a lovable man and painstaking worker. His patrons of the high school are delighted with him. He is destined to do much valuable service for education and Atlanta in the Boys' High school. He was formerly principal of Crew street school.

Professor W. J. Noyes.

Mr. W. J. Noyes is in charge of section B of the first grade. He is a man of excellent capacity and considerable experience. He has taught several years in the Boys' High school. He was once principal of Ivy street school.

MORE SUITS FILED. The Sequel to Last Sunday's Accident Contin-

The Sequel to Last Sanday's Accident Continues to Grow.

The Atlanta Consodidated company is now beginning to feel the results of last Sunday's accident.

Two new suits were filed in the clerk's office yesterday afternoon.

Richard Battle, one of the negroes who was very seriously hurt, claims that he has been damaged in the sum of $10,000.

He alleges that his skull was fractured and his nervous system impaired to such an extent as to injure his bodily health and affect the sanity of his mind.

Eliza Battle, the colored woman who sustained a heavy fall in addition to other painful linjuries, brought suit against the company for another $10,000.

She claims that her head was fractured also, and that she, too, has suffered to such an extent as to injure her health and reduce the expectancy of her life.

The plaintiffs are represented by Messrs. Arnold and Arnold.

Another suit was filed against the company by Silvia White. It relates, however, to another accident that occurred on the 15th of July, 1892. She was a passenger on board of the electric car and when it neared the crossing of Moore and Decatur streets, she indicated her desire to get off. The car stopped, but before she had time to disembark, it began to move again. The movement was unexpected and she was burled to the ground before she had time to grasp the car. Her injuries were very painful and she was obliged, for several weeks, to remain in bed. She were very painful and she was obliged, for several weeks, to remain in bed. She claims that the motorman was grossly negligent in allowing the car to move be-fore she had touched the ground. The damages specified in the sult were fixed at $5,000.

It is what Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does that tells the story of its merit and has given t the largest sale of any medicine.

A very sad affliction has befallen Mr. and Mrs. William C. Baird in the death by lock-jaw, yesterday morning, of their little child. Mr. Baird is the genial and clever postoffice inspector, whose headquarters are in this city. They have the sympathy of a host of friends. Mr. Charles N. Holmes, an old Atlanta boy s now with the MacCollin Opera Company as eading tenor.

Arrangements for a special train via the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia rathway to Macon and return on Labor Day, September 5th, are simply perfect, and a big crowd is insured. Two coaches will be reserved for white people. Train will leave union depot at 8 o'clock a. m. Tickets good to return to September 5th.

day the third party convention at Cartersville nominated Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Rome, as a candidate for con gress in the seventh district. In declining or accepting this proffere candidacy. Mr. Wright is called upon to make the most momentous decision of his political life. He will decline it, and thus place himself in line with the victorious democracy all over the south He will decline it, and thus do justice to an ambition that has a bright future before it. He will decline it, and thus redeem the pledge he made to his party in the late May convention in Atlanta, when, lifting his hand on high, he exclaimed "So help me God, I am a democrat, and will remain a democrat as long as I live!" He will decline it, and thus be able to go before his party, prompted by a brilliant intellect and a natural ambition.

But if Mr. Wright should accept the third party nomination, he will make the mistake of his life.

To accept the nomination of a party which is blatantly opposed to democracy, and which has for its purpose the division of the white vote-which is prepared to deal with the republican party to the extent of friendly co-operation-will be to place himself outside the democratic organization

A great many of those who will vote the third party ticket will do so with the best intentions. They are honestly deceived. They do not know that the purpose of the third party leaders is to divide the democrats of the south, and thus play into the hands of the republicans. But the democrats know it. Mr. Wright knows it. He knows that whatever weakens the democratic party here strengthens the republicans. He knows that the third party in Georgia and in the south has no reason for its existence. These things Mr. Wright knows beyond all doubt.

On the other hand. The Constitution knows that the third party in Georgia will be swept out of sight with the aid of the very men on whom they rely-the alliance democrats. The Constitution knows that the third party candidates will be defeated, and it will be years before they can regain the confidence of the democrats whom, without reason, they have op-

Shoplan Mr. Wright so far forget the edges he made to his fellow democrats in the May convention as to accept the third party nomination to congress, he invites defeat, and must pay the penalty. Don't do it, Mr. Wright. Don't!

Prevention Better Than Cure. From time to time during the past summer, The Constitution has urged the city authorities to take hold of sanitation vigorously, and clean every square inch of Atlanta, until there will be nothing left to invite disease or aid its progress. It is gratifying to see that the proper steps are to be taken without delay. Vesterday the sanitary committee of the council had a conference with Inspector Veal, and it was decide to push the work of cleaning up Atlanta right along. ized force busily engaged for the next few days, and in a week or two the city will be as clean and bright as a silver dollar. The fact is, Atlanta is in very good condition, and, with a little extra work, our back vards, alleys and sewers that need attention will be all right. Our authorities believe that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. They want Atlanta to maintain her pas record for health, and, if the cholera marches through the United States, they want it said that not a'single case of the disease occurred within our gates.

Let the good work go on!

The Sun Cholera Mixture. The veteran editor of The New York Journal of Commerce pays editorial tribute to the medical prescription which has come to be known as the Sun Cholera Mixture, and The Constitution desires to join its esteemed contemporary in making the remedy known.

Mr. Stone says that the remedy was given to the public by The Sun more than twenty years ago, but this is a slip of the pen or of the types. It was given the public more than forty years ago, and since that time it has done a world of good, not only in cholera epidemics, but in all derangements that possess the cholera symptoms—in cases of cholera morbus and in dangerous attacks of

The prescription was drawn up by a number of eminent physicians of New York, and published in The Sun's editorial columns. This fact has given the torial columns. This fact has given the remedy the name of The Sun Cholera Mixture. The editor of The Journal of Commerce has seen it in constant use for nearly two score of years, and found it to be the best remedy for bowel troubles ever yet devised. To this he adds: "No one who has this by him, and takes it in time, will ever have the cholera."

The writer of this has seen this remedy employed for more than twenty years and it has never falled in any case of bowel trouble when taken promptly. He has seen it give almost instant relief in the disease (almost as violent as genuine cholera) which ensues when the deviled crab and the milk punch meet in the bosom of the careless epicura. It is a remedy that ought to be in every household, whether there is danger from cholera or not. This is the prescription:

the stomach the second can be given immediately. There need be no fear of collapse when this medicine is given Weaver's Record.

It is to be hoped that our cont aries throughout the state will continue to keep General Weaver's record before the people.

The Constitution was the first news paper in Georgia, or in the south, to appreciate the importance of showing up the third party leader in his true colors. Immediately after his nomination at Omaha, Mr. E. W. Barrett, our Washington correspondent, was requested by wire to furnish the facts, and within four days he looked up Weaver's record, telegraphed it in full, and The Constitution spread broadcast over the country his venomous attacks on southern manhood.

On the first page of our issue of July 11th, will be found Mr. Barrett's Washington letter containing the statement and the proof that General Weaver introduced in two sessions of congress a bill with the substance of the pension plank of the St. Louis platform.

The letter also contained this extract from one of Weaver's Iowa speeches:

I want to congratulate you, fellow citizens, on the suppression of purely democratic rebellion, gotten up by the democrats for the democratic purpose of dissevering this union and perpetually establishing human slavery. Now and forever it is establishing as an eternal truth that the democracy in no place or state can ever be trusted with government. As a party it should disband, just as a section of it did at Appomattox.

Speaking of the democracy again, he said:

I am astonished beyond measure that a party with a record so utterly vile and wretched and wicked should be so lost to all shame and decency as to make an appearance before the people of Iowa. This, however, is mild language General Weaver told his Iowa hearers that the acts of the democracy comprised "murder, treason, theft, arson, fraud, per-fury, and all crimes possible for an organization to connive at." Here is one of his choice paragraphs about southern democrats:

No republican can ever, under any circumstances, have any part or lost with the hungry, rebellious, man-hating woman-selling gang, corporated under the name of democracy, a name so full of itsuch and poison that it should be blotted from the vocabulary of civilised man, and handed over to the barbarism that it so fitly now and in all the past has represented.

These extracts from Weaver's speeches admitted by him to be correctly reported, were looked up by The Constitution's Washington correspondent, and printed in our columns within less than a week after the third party presidential nomination at Omaha.

We are gratified to see that many of our Georgia contemporaries are now in line with us in putting this record before the people, and are following the pathway we blazed out as soon as Weaver was

This is the work that tells. Keen it up until every man, woman and child in Georgia and in the south learns the third party chieftain's bitter, burning, slanderous, south-hating utterances by heart!

The Constitution exposed the whole business almost before Weaver's nomination was known to the country, but it is good matter to keep up. Keep it before the people!

Tariff and Force Bill.

The New York World thinks that the democratic editors at the south who talk about putting the tariff issue aside and confining the campaign to fighting the force bill, have need to enlarge their horizon and improve their political per-

Such a proposition has not met our eye during the present campaign, but, if any such case has been made, The World may be sure that the editors were referring to the campaign in their own states, and not to the national contest, and our contemporary may be very sure, too, that the editors know what they are talking

It would be absurd, of course, to put the tariff issue aside in the national campaign, and no southern editor has ever nade such a proposition. It would be equally as absurd to make it the only issue at the south, where the white voters democrats and third party men, are practically united in favor of tariff reform, and need no arguments to convince them.

In the face of the division that has been and still is threatened in the south, the force bill is the issue most likely to restore democrats to their senses, and bring about harmony among the whites.

Commissioner Peck's Report.

We are glad to observe that The New York Evening Post, which is a rabid Hill-hater, is inclined to take a reasonable view of the report of Labor Commissioner Peck, which has created such an un seemly renewal of the attacks on the democratic organization of New York state. The Post sees very clearly that there is nothing in the report itself, cal-culated to damage the democratic posi-tion, and the inevitable conclusion must be that whatever damage is done must be the result of the trumped-up charge that the report is put forward at this time by the Hill contingent to hurt Mr.

charge is that Senator Hill, in more than one campaign, has shown that the asser-tion which the manufacturers make in their confidential letters to Commissioner included in the report is no at the tariff in any way, and the crease of wages is in the and not in the rate paid.

But the fact remains that some of the most prominent "anti-snappers." as they call themselves, would be perfectly willing to see Mr. Cleveland defeated if they could fasten his defeat on Senator Hill and his friends, instead of taking the report for what it is worth, and showing the futility and absurdity of accepting the figures of the report as an effort to tolster up the McKinley bill. On the face of them, the figures are ex-parte. They are what the anufacturers choose to make them. They are not the result of any investign tion, but are furnished by the interested parties in confidential letters. The great ody of wage-carners, who figure as the aries, have not been heard from Nevertheless, their testimony is absolutely essential to a proper undertanding of the matter. Without it, the figures which Commissioner Peck gives are worthless from any point of view. In other words, the report disposes of itself effectually and finally.

The Joint Debate at Crawfordville. The first joint debate between Hon. J. C. C. Black and Hon. Thomas E. Watson will take rlace at Crawfordville tomorrow.

It will be the most interesting discussion of the campaign up to date, and will attract a large crowd.

The Georgia railroad, with its tomed enterprise, will run a special train Saturday for the accommodation of persons in Atlanta and other points this side of Crawfordville, and a like train will be run from Augusta. The opportunity is a tempting one, the schedule is conve and the fare is low. Our Atlanta democrats should embrace this chance to attend the debate, and encourage their eloquent champion by their presence Major Black will make one of the greatest efforts of his life tomorrow, and it make the turning point in the campaign

GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

Mr. Dick Fletcher, of Terrell county, a queer, but true campaign story. Fletcher says that about the time the Fletcher says that about the time the congressional campaign opened, with Tobe Stevens, Jim Guerry and Counts Wooten, the only candidates in the race, a sow belonging to Mr. Sawyer gave birth to a litter of eleven pigs. Three of the pigs were very small ones—"rimts," as they are commonly called—while the other eight were large, thrifty fellows. The three small pigs were named for the three congressional candidates, and allowed to remain in the yard about the house, while the well-grown pigs were called the "mossbacks" and turned out with the larger hogs. On the day that Judge Guerry retired from the congressional race, the pig bearing his name "gaye up the ghost," or, in other words, died. The two remaining pigs with distinguished names were more tenderly cared for, but on the day that Mr. Stevens was defeated for the nomination at Albany, the pig bearing his name got among the eight "mossbacks" and was killed by them. Of the three pigs, "Counts" is the only one now living,

The announcement of Hon. Henry L. Car-roll as a candidate for the legislature, on the republican ticket, in Union county, places three candidates for representative in the field. Hon. There can be no comparison be-tween Peek and Blackburn as political ora-tors. The latter is the superior by far."

The Dawson News has a word to say to a few dissatisfied democrats in that section. The News says:

"There should no longer be sulking on the part of any democrat who worked and voted in the primary or convention, but all should be loyal, true-hearted and enthusiastic. Mr. Russell will conduct a vigorous campaign throughout this district, and his triumphant election is assured. The Terrell county democrats, under the leadership of O. B. Stevens and others, will roll up a good majority for the nominee. Hon. Ben Russell, of Decatur, will be the next congressman from the second district, and he will worthly wear the mantle which Henry G. Turner has forever made honorable."

TAMMANY, BILL AND OLEVELAND.

From The San Francisco Examiner.

Bavid Leventritt, chairman of the law committee of Tammany hall, one of the solid seventy-two Tammany delegates to the Chicago convention and a democratic leader of much distinction in New York, is in the city. He was asked why Tammany opposed Mr. Cleveland and why Tammany was, as has been claimed by its members, working for him now.

now.

Mr. Hill is probably nearer taking an emphatic position in Mr. Cleveland's support than most people think. The question has been asked. Why isn't he making speeches for him, and, not having made any yet, when will he do so?

Will will Take the Stamp.

"That is easily answered. The fact is, there have been no campaign speeches anywhere yet. When the time comes, Mr. Hill will make as many as anybody. He will not only speak in New York, but he will visit other states.

"Now, a word as to the position of Tamany, with which Mr. Hill is identified. The Tammany delegates at Chicago wanted Mr. Hill nominated, for the reason that they were convinced he could poil a larger vote in New York than Mr. Cleveland, or any other domoerat who could be nominated. In this they have not changed their views. They think so yet. But certain facts have come to light that have made them change their opinions as to Mr. Cleveland's strength, and they believe now, and very decidedly, that he can carry New York. This they did not believe when they were at Chicago.

"The reason was this. Mr. Cleveland, by his course in regard to certain army and soldier legislation during his term of office, had alienated the support of this class, and in 1888 he was defeated. It was understood that certain army posts in the north and west part of the state would oppuse him if he were again nominated, and consequently the support of Tammany was withheld from him. "Since them, however, it has been learned that the army posts will support him; that they are convinced that after all Mr. Cleveland did nothing that was not for the best, and they will stay any for the best, and they will stay my him. This changes leaves Atlanta tomorrow morning for Crawfordville will sweep across the state as the democratic tidal wave will sweep over Georgia next October.

Fulton's democratis are deeply interested in the speaking tomorrow and numbers of them are going.

Everybody says that the day will be one of the greatest in the state's political history. Twenty years hence it will be spoken of as the old debates are now. Major Black and Congressman Watson have been in training, so to speak, for weeks. They are in as fine condition for their duel as Sullivan and Corbett are for their duel as Sullivan and Corbett are for their duel as Sullivan and Corbett are for theirs. The day never will be forgot by those who hear the discussion. All Georgia is watching these two leaders in the tenth district. The democrats have the utmost confidence in their atandard bearer, Major Black, and the third partyties have absolute faith in Tom Watson. Mr. Watson has not been putting himself in the way of democracy's champions heretofore during the campaign. He will have a great throng of his followers present tomorrow and Major Black's friends do not propose to be outnumbered. Each party realizes that much depends on the impressions received at this the first joint debate. Whoever gets the best send-off will have something of an advantage and that advantage will be felt, too, by the party over the state. All the democratic leaders are anxious to have large crowds go from every county in that part of the state. The two men who are to meet are thoroughly dissimilar in their style of campaigning. Major Black is polished, logical, classical and above all things fair in statement. Congressman Watson is keen in repartee and has a cut and thrust manner of debating. He is at his best on his feet and his party has not such another speaker in its ranks. He is plausible and hard to down. His opponents do not lightly estimate his ability. They have no fears, however, but that he will be routed in the debate.

A REMEDY FOR HYDROPHOBIA-

What Is claimed to Be a Sure Cure.
Chadwick, Ala., August 31.—Editor Constitution: Time and again I have read in your valuable paper the accounts of horrible deaths of many fellow beings who have died of hydrophobia. I have a recipe which I clipped from a paper over twenty years ago, which, if published now, may prove to be of value in the future. I give it as follows:

the future. I give is an all the future. I give is an anal dog:

An English journal says that an old saxon has been using for fifty years and with perfect a remedy for bite of mad dogs, by the has been using for fifty years and with perfect success a remedy for bite of mad dogs, by the agency of which he has rescued many fellow beings and cattle, too, from the dreadful death of hydrophology. beings and cattle, too, from the dreadful death of hydrophober. The remedy is to wash the place bitten immediately with warm vinegar and tepid water, dry it and then apply a few drops of murisite acid which will destroy the poison of the saliva or neutralise is and a cure is effected.

The Ladies of the Home for the Friendless

Meet in the Pariors of the F. M. C. A.

The ladies of the Home for the Friendless held a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the pariors of the Young Men's Christian Association. They discussed the condition of the home and several matters of interest pertaining to its management. They were more than pleased with the work that has been accomplished during the past month, and were exceedingly judiant over the outlook for the coming year.

The elegant new building will soon be completed on the corer of Handolph street and Highland avenue. It has already assumed its proportions, and rising above the other buildings in the neighborhood, it seems to lord it over the surrounding hills.

Situated just under the boughs of a hundred or more oak trees—oaks of stately magnificance that were, no doubt, standing when Atlanta was a mere speck in the distance—it affords an ideal situation for the children who will certainly enjoy the luxury of their shade.

The decision of Judge Clarke in accounts.

The Proceedings Were Full of Interest and Were Greatly Enjoyed.

The normal school has now been in session for four days.

Discussions in regard to the aducational problems of the day and matters of special interest pertaining to their immediate work were freely engaged in by the teachers. Lessons upon the various branches of instruction taught in the several grades were also conducted in an able manner.

The work is progressing handsomely and the teachers have expressed themselves in the highest terms of the good results that have been accomplished.

HARDWICK-KNIGHT The Marriage of Two Popular Young Atlanta

The Marriage of Two Popular Young Atlanta People.

The marriage of Miss Marie B. Knight to Mr. Thomas R. Hardwick occurred at the residence of the bride's mother, No. 475 Jackson street, yesterday morning.

A lovelier wedding has rarely been witnessed in Atlanta, and the beauty of the quiet ceremony was largely in the charm of its simplicity. It was a modest, unpretending and yet at the same time a beautiful fastening of the nuprial ite.

The apartments were airlly decorated with light and delicate fabrics of blue and pink, and scattered throughout the house, which was thrown open by means of folding doors into a large and ample space, were many exquisite blossoms of rare tint and delicate perfume.

The bride was nestly attired in a traveling suit of blue worsted, and her beauty was never seen to better advantage than when she entered the parlor, bearing in her hand a beautiful cluster of Marechal Niel roses.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dz. R. H. Barnett, the pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and, after invoking upon their union a shower of heavenly benedictions, he declared them united in the silken ties of wed-lock.

declared them united in the silken ties of wedlock.

As soon as the ceremony was performed a reception was tendered by the bride. Many were the hearty congratulations that were showered upon the young couple, accompanied by the earnest wish that their paths might always be in pleasant places and retain is every circumstance of life the beautiful rose tints of their wedding.

Delightful refreshments were then served,
and for more than an hour the apartments were filled with a merry chatter. When the time arrived for the bride and groom to take their departure the congratulations of the crowd were again renewed. If the wishes of their many friends could only be realized in the slightest degree of fulfillment, they would always breathe in the delicate perfume exhaled by the orange blossom. Many costly, and elegant presents were received by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick will make their home in Washington, D. C., where they will enter upon the enjoyment of their rosy future, and, no doubs, winnow reality from the golden prophecy so brightly assured by their many friends.

Mr. W. D. Green arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, bringing with him his fair young bride, from the state of Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Green were the recipients of many congratulations upon their arrival in Atlanta, and many sincere wishes were showered upon them for a happy career in the rosy wedlock upon which they have entered. Mrs. Green is a charming and accomplished young lady, and her many personal attractions will make her a delightful addition to Atlanta society. It is only due to the handsome deputy to say that he is richly deserving of the prize he has won.

Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Green, of Fort Valley, accompanied by their handsome little grandson, Master Edwin Houser, passed through Atlanta yesterday. They will travel until late fail through Tenoessee and Mississippi.

Mr. George W. Scoville and sister, Scoville, have returned from a very ant trip to Old Point Comfort.

Miss Bell Strahm, a very accomplished young lady of Albany, Ore. has returned to the city from New Holland Springs.

Misses Clars and Annie Werner, after an exceedingly pleasant visit to Gainesville and Cedartown, have returned to the city.

Miss Evelyn Jackson has returned to the city after her summer vacation, and will at citly resume her music classes at the residence of Mr. John W. Stephens, on East Ellis street.

The Calhoun meeting seems to have been all that it was expected to be and all that it could have been. There was not a single drawback, not a single obstacle in the way and all went off happily and with satisfactory indications of what will result when the election day rolls around.

Mr. Atkinson returned last night and was hard at work in the democratic headquarters until a late hour. The number of letters that pour into the committee's rooms on every mail is increasing daily and when Chairman Atkinson arrived last night his desk was piled high with letters from different sections of the state asking that democratic speakers be sent there at once to fill some early engagement.

Way Down in Lincoln.

Mr. Charles S. Hollenshead, of Lincoln county, was a prominent visitor at democratic headquarters yesterday.

He came from the bloody tenth district where Tom Watson is waging such warfare and came in behalf of the unterrified democracy of Lincoln county to ask Chairman Atkinson to send some good speakers to Mathews's Mill on the 6th instant, when there will be a great democratic rally. Watson held his big rally at Lincolnton day before yesterday, and made a speech to the third partyites for miles around who gathered to hear him.

He had things all his way as there was no democratic speaker there to speak against him but when the speaker was not the speak against.

He had things all his way as there was no democratic speaker there to speak against him, but when the speech was over, it is said Bill Murray, the famous democratic shouter of what Longstreet calls the "dark corner," arose to his feet and proposed three cheers for Black. Instantly there was a deafening shout for Black and true blue democracy such as made the tenth district Messiah droop his head and look sour. But the democrats of Lincoln are determined to let no grass grow under their feet. They have planned rallies in every section of the county to be held soon, and will spare no efforts to bring out every available voter when election day rolls around.

"Oh, there's no use talking about," remarked Mr. Hollenshead yesterday, crossing his legs and looking seriously upon a group of interested spectators in the democratic headquarters—"there's no use talking, Black is going to be elected in the tenth district. He must be elected, and with the determined democrats of old Lincoln which is no longer the dark corner of Georgia, thank God, 'must be' means 'will be.' Now mark what I tell you," said he in conclusion, "if Watson is not leaten it will not be Lincoln's fault."

Gossip Among the Visitors.

Mr. Edgar Watkins, president of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Carrollton, was at headquarters yesterday. He says the situation is all right in his section of Georgia and thinks the third party is on the wane every day. "Whatever chances the third party may have had down there," said he, "have flown long ago and the democrats will storm the earth with them when election day rolls around."

Mr. George M. Napier, editor of The Walton News, was in Atlanta yesterday from Monroe and spent much of his time at the committee rooms. He reports that Rill Placker "everlastingly fixed things against third partyism at Morroe, so far as the colored vote is concerned, the other day in his speech."

This will be good news to Colonel Livingston and very bad news to Colonel Taliaferro.

Mr. John Snead, of Woolsey, Ga.; Mr. R. L. Barry, of Scott, Ga.; Mr. Jake Tweedy, of Athens, Ga., and Joe White, of Augusta, were prominent on The Constitution's register book at democratic headquarters yesterday.

the Young Men's Prayer Association of that hurch.

Four young men from a single church—and that at the same time—as candidates for the holy orders, is an exhibition of grace that is rarely manifested in any community.

The importance attaching to the meeting last night is such as not only to interest the immediate denomination to which the young men belong, but also to excite a general interest in the four young candidates who have taken upon themselves the responsibility of representing Atlanta in that noble parliament of Christian workers who are struggling for the world's redemption. The young men are Messrs. Charles Ottley, J. W. Stokes, Lowe Stillman and H. C. Hammond. Mr. Ottley will enter the seminary of Princeton, N. J., and the other young men will leave for Davidson college, North Carolina.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. W. H. Pope, the president of the Young Men's Prayer Association. The subject of discussion for the evening was then announced: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every preacher."

The room was crowded with people, and many ladies were present. The talks that were made were strong and forcible, and full of the warmth that came from the heart. That cholera ordinance of Councilman Reneau's appropriating money to improve the sanitary condition of the city will go back to the council Monday with a favorable report written across it, and signed by the sanitary committee.

The amount of the appropriation will be changed, however, from $2,000 to $1,600. The chances are that the ordinance will pass, as the city fathers recognize the fact that the health of the city should be looked after before the improvement of streets. after before the improvement of streets.

after before the improvement of streets.

The sanitary committee met yesterday morning and considered Councilman Reneau's ordinance. A request from the board of health for $600 to clean up the city was before the committee. The members of the committee didn't think that sum sufficient, and after talking with Alderman Rice they thought that Mr. Reneau's figures were too high. After discussing the situation in all its phases they compromised the matter by agreeing on $1,000. All the members of the committee agreed that the gravity of the situation demanded that speedy measures be taken to arrange

The Board of Health Acts

Day before yesterday the board of health met and decided that the city should be cleaned up, not only outside of the sanitary limits, but a stronger force was needed in-side the limits. They thought that if the council appropriated any money at all it should be used as the board of health saw fit, and not all outside of the present sanitary limits as the Reneau ordinance contem-

The board also decided that Atlanta should be given a thorough cleaning throughout, and Inspector Veal was instructed to begin work at once, and make Atlanta the cleanest city in the country.

Dr. W. S. Armstrong, president of the board of health, thinks the city should be board of health, thinks the city should be made as clean as possible, but thinks that the extra appropriation should be used in the discretion of the health board. "I think," said Dr. Armstrong, "that it is likely that cholera may reach Atlanta. Our quarantine regulations may be efficacious enough, but immigrants may come here over the Canadian frontier or from the Mexican ports. One of these immigrants could mysed ports. One of these immigrants could spread the contagion with disastous results. I think every measure of caution possible should be taken and the board of health has given instructions that the city be given

There are inside of the city limits over five thousand houses which are outside of the sanitary limits and are not served by the sanitary limits and are not served by the garbage carts.

Inspector Veal says that the department starts at the beginning of the year with a force of carts and hands just enough to serve the city, and in the summer months, when the garbage accumulates in much larger quantities than in the winter, the service of the department is not equal to the sanitary needs of the city.

In corroboration of Dr. Armstrong's opinion that the disease may break out in the ion that the disease may break out in fac-interior, from some stray immigrant, there is the history of the plague of 1873. That epidemic was started from germs brought over in the baggage of immigrants, and broke out far inland. Three distinct out-breaks of the disease occurred at widely remote points in the United States from poison packed and transported in the effects of munigrants from Holland, Sweden and Russia. These people and the vessels in which they were carried had been perfectly which they were carried had been perfectly healthy, and the people remained so until their goods were unpacked at Carthage, O., at Crow River, Minn., and at Yankton, Dak., respectively. Within twenty-four hours after the polson particles were liberated the first cases of the disease appeared, and the unfortunates were almost literally swept from the face of the earth.

WADSWORTH, THE WINNER, WILL PITCH.

And if He Arrives Pinckney Will Play Third and Graham Will Cover Short-Baseball Notes.

Testerday was an off day in the Southern League, and the Atlanta ball team spent the day in Atlanta resting.

This morning at 7:20 o'clock they will leave for Macon over the East Tennessee. This afternoon they will again meet Burbridge's boys, and continue the race for the pennant. After three games with Macon they open at Chattanooga Tuesday for three games. From Chattanooga they go to Birmingham for a series, and thence home. Birmingham comes with Atlanta home, opening here one week from Wednesday. The result of those six games to be played between Birmingham and Atlanta will probably settle the pennant race. Both Morton and Manning will go in to win and strive their hardest to put up winning ball. After the Birmingham series here Chattanooga closes the season here with three games ending September 23d.

Today's game between Atlanta and Macon in the latter city promises to be a battle royal between the two teams. FIGHT TO THE FINISH.

There Will Be No "Draw" in the New Orleans Contests.

New Orleans, September 1.—Journals north, as well as local journals, have for several days been discussing the question of draws in connection with the approaching fights. That fact has created some anxiety, particularly among betting men. President Noel said:

"I do not know what has given rise to all this talk. The rule of the Olympic Club is that every fight in its arean shall be a fair, stand-up contest to the finish. We have never had draws, and do not provide for them. As long as one man is willing, the contest must proceed. The referee of the club will have no authority to order a draw. I believe the public may rest assured that in each one of these fights, the winner will be declared."

To Stand Her Trial at the November Term of Court.

Fall River, Mass., September 1.—Counsel for Lixsie Borden and the state made arguments today before Judge Blaisdell, reviewing the testimony given. The court would not release Lizzie Borden, but held her to await the action of the grand jury. Judge Blaisdell said that sympathy should be laid aside, rud dtty required, upon this evidence, but one thing to be done. Supposing a man was seen in the chamber of Mrs. Borden, the guest chamber of deat, and that he was in the room of the father when death came; suppose that man should tell as many different stories as Lizzie has done—the way would be plain. "I find that she is probably guilty." The accused was ordered to the county fall for trial at the November term.

UNITED STATES WEATHER MAP FOR TODAY

OCLEAR OFAIR OCLOUDY SHAIN SENOW

Arrows fly with the wind. Dotted lines traverse regions of equal temperature. Figures at the ends show the degree of heat. Unbroken lines traverse regions of equal barometric pressure. Figures at the end of an unbroken line, as 29.5, 80.5, 50.1, etc., show that the air along the line if high enough to balance that many inches of mercury. Areas of high pressure are accompanied by a clear atmosphere, and "lows" by a moist air, clouds and rain.

Cool weather continues in the lake region, and also extends eastward to the Atlantic coast. Normal temperatures prevail in the extreme southern states, while temperatures above normal prevail in the states of the morthwest. A maximum temperature of 90 degrees was observed resterday in Rapid City, Denver, San Antonio, Savannah and Jacksonville; and a maximum of 64 degrees temperature.

SOUTHERN MEDICAL COLLEGE,

AMONG THE COLLEGE BOYS

he Is Going to the State University a Athens?—The College Bell Will Soon Be Calling Them in to Prayers.

As the autumn days draw nigh at hand and the cool night winds sweep away the eat of summer, the gay and festive college oy, after a hilarious vacation, begins to brow his books, old shoes and what-not into its big Saratoga and hies away to the camas once again.

September is here. Soon the familiar nis big Saratoga and hies away to the campus once again.

September is here. Soon the familiar peals of the old college bells will be ringing throughout the land, and the boys, happy to be back on their cherished campus homes, will be marching in to hear their reverend chancellors open the fall session with prayers in the chapel.

It is just that time of year when in the cities the young fellows, fresh from their tedious routine of public school work, are to be found on every corner grouped about some older "chap," who has been "off to college," planning to enter themselves, asking all sorts of questions about life at the university, laughing at the yarns the college youth sees fit to impose upon them, and frowning at the mere mention of how hard the course of study will be, for the college boy always paints university curriculums about ten degrees more frightful than they really are.

really are.

And in the country, too, for that matter, college is all the talk. The young hopeful who has been told by his father that if cotton goes up this fall he may enter college comes in each night from the farm, scrutinizes with awe the course of study mapped out in the university catalogue he has written for and then dives into his algebra, his "trig" and his "Virgil," till his eyes fairly burn with heat from the kerosene blaze on the table by his side.

They are all getting ready for it the country over, and the Georgia boy is no exception to the rule.

Atlanta's University Boys.

There is no city in the country, perhaps,

There is no city in the country, perhaps, larger than Atlanta that is furnishing as my university students from season to many university students from season to season.

Young men will soon be leaving the city for all parts of the United States for college. Some are going to Harvard, some to Yale, some to Princeton and other eastern colleges, and vast flocks of them will be going to the State university at Athens and other Georgia colleges.

Atlanta has always patronized the State university handsomely, not more because it is Georgia's unversity and a home institution than because it is as thorough in its departments and as high in its excellences as the best universities of the land.

Dozens of representaive young men go from the Gate City each year to the college of Toombs, of Stephens, of Hill and of Cobb, and will continue to go in incrrased numbers for years yet unborn, for the university is growing to more significant proportions each year and is becoming a greater power of usefulness to the state. Her graduates are taking prominent places in the affairs of the country, her strength is enlarging, her influence growing better by reason of age.

Gossip with the Students.

Gossip with the Students.

All of the old boys will go back to the university this fall from Atlanta, and a great many new ones besides.

Park Howell, the bright and handsome son of Mr. Albert Howell, Sr., will return and enter the junior class. Park is one of the favorites with the boys over at Athens. He was not only faithful in the classroom, but on the diamond he was indispensable as first baseman for the college team, and his fine tenor voice made smoother the harmony of the College Glee Club.

Billie Armstrong, the well-known son of Dr. Armstrong, will also be a junjor this term. He was known to be one of the brightest boys on the campus and as for football, few could down him.

George Hillyer goes back and rises to the dignity of senior. George is what the college boys term an all-round good fellow, ready in the classroom and handy on the que club last year, and also won several victories over other colleges with the baseball team, which was placed under his excellent guidance.

Charley Nesbitt—the boys all called him charley Nesbitt—the boys all called him hollie"—is going back and every student ll be glad of it. Nesbitt could climb ther with his lyric tenor on a serenade in any man in college.

Among the new boys to enter this year ll be Will Kiser, Jim Dickey, Henry rter, T. Cuyler Smith, Arthur Redding, tes Block and a great many others. Dudley Youngblood, who was president the University Athletic Club last year, d who graduated with splendid degree, ll return and take a post-graduate course chemistry, which study has all the charm "Dud" of any lovely young Lucy Cobb duate. He is going to make it a special-and that takes him back to hear Dr. Try White's fascinating lectures on the sterious art and science for one more ir.

There will be an important meeting of the Baptist preachers and deacons of this section at Ellijay September 5th to 10th. Those of the Noonday, Hightower, Jasper, Ellijay, Mountaintown and Natly River Associations have been invited to attend. Questions relating to Christian work in this section will be discussed. Among other things the propriety of establishing a Baptist high schoolt at some point on the Marietta and North Georgia railroad.

Savannah, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—Warren P. Wilcox, of Montague & Co., of this city, has demonstrated that fine tobacco can be grown along the line of the Southbound railroad between this city and Columbia. From fifteen acres of his plantation from seed procured from Editor Ben Russell he has grown and cured a crop for which he is offered sufficient to net him a clear profit of $100 per acre. Next year, with this year's experience, he expects to make $300 per acre. A number of planters will go into the tobacco culture.

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, September 1.—The cholera scare was the absorbing topic on Wall street, creating uneasiness in nearly all circles, and causing sharp declines in stocks, bonds and all speculative futures. In the stock exchange was full of selling orders at the opening, and when the signal to begin trading was given, there was a regular stampede among the stockholders. Every one tried to sell at once, but the most marked declines were in stocks in which the speculative clique has lately been working. These stocks include Sugar, Western Union, Manhattan and Cordage. Sugar declined 61-8; Manhattan, 4; Western Union, 31-8, and Cordage, 3 per cent. It was currently reported that these sharp breaks were due to sales for 8. V. White, who decided to unload on the market without consulting his colleagues in the deal. The sharp break in the securities named caused intense excitement in the first hour, and traders and holders of other stocks joined in the selling. As prices declined, stop-orders were reached in many stocks, and declines ranging from 1.64 per cent were made in almost everything in the list. After the first hour the market became quiet on the news that no cholera patients were found on the steamers which arrived last night, but when President Harrison's message, announcing the twenty days' quarantine, was received, there was another stampede, and the uneasiness increased. To add to the general disturbance in values, the banks refrained from offering money, and the call-loan rates advanced from 206 per cent. James R. Keene said the selling of stocks today and the decline in prices was simply the result of cowardice. Holders of stocks are afraid to stand by their guns. There is no reason for any dismay or uneasiness among people where sanitary science has reached such perfection as with us, and it is highly improbable, should cholera appear here, that deaths from fi would exceed those from pneumonia. There was a faury in call loans late in the day, by which rates

NEW YORK, September 1.—The market today has been one continuous selling of long stock from the opening to the close. The wires have poured in selling orders from all over the country, and the effect has been a heavy decline all through the list. The only good buyers in today's market were the Europeans, who recovered some of the stock, which they sold at higher prices. The greatest decline was, as we have predicted, in the Trust stocks, and Sugan broke six points amid great excitement. Edison Electric was also poured out in big quantities, and Cotton Oil also suffered with the others. All through the railroad list the long stock poured out all day, and the country has become thoroughly alarmed, fearing the cholera may break out. Rumors were very thick all day, and it was said that the president would issue a proclamation enforcing a twenty-day quarantine on all vessels arriving from infected ports, but this rumor was afterwards denied, as the cabinet is still in session. Be that as it may, the fact remains that the business of the country and the people of this land, as well as the world, must expect that if cholera does not break out this year it is sure to do so next summer. The market needed some such decided news to give it a shaking up, as the speculative position in the market was getting overconfident, or, in other words, stocks were in weak hands. The course of the market today has borse out our opinion, for the market was honeycombed with stop orders, and that we did not care to follow a buil market that was led by the present leaders. There is no doubt that they have sold a great deal of stock today, but are not by any means out of their holdings. The money market was also very much stiffer, and, as the loans are 500,000,000 more than last year, it is to be expected that the banks will scrutinize the loans more closely and refuse to loan on a good many of the trushy stocks. The market closes in a very feverish condition, pri J. S. Bache & Co.'s Stock Letter. By Private Wire to B. W. Martin, Manager.

NEW YORK, September 1—Liverpool this morning showed a decline of 1-did a part of which was subsequently recovered, and this, coupled with fair sales of actual cotton, acted as a stimulus here, for it had been anticipated that greater weakness would develop abroad under the advices which were sent out last night from this point. In addition, receipts were writemely moderate at all the ports, and at one time prices were fully too points better than last night's close. In the course of the day fresh sciling started, and under persistent offerings, mainly for long account, prices at one time broke nearly 10 points from the best figures of the day, closing a shade under last night legues of the day, closing a shade under last night and the prices at all the course of the day closing a shade under last night and the prices at a light county of the day, closing a shade under last night and the prices at a light county of the day closing a shade under last night and the prices at a light county of the day closing a shade under last night and the prices at a light county of the day closing a shade under last night and the prices at a light county of the day closing a shade under last night and the prices at a light county of the day closing a shade under last night and the prices are the day of the day closing a shade under last night and the prices are the day of the day close and the day of the day county of the day of Fentures of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, September i—A depression and panisky feeling ruled on the beard of trade on account of the cholera scare during most of the forenoon, and most of the articles dealt in went off sharply, touching the lowest point reached for saveral years, but later in the day the action of the anthorities at Washington and some other items of news caused a revulsion of feeling and a reaction set in which earried prices well up toward the closing figures of yesterday, and in pork and ribe to a higher level, leaving the trade in a more hopeful frame of mind than it has shown for some time past. A story was circulated that there were three cases of cholera in New York city. Wheat fell during the first hour 1½ below last night's close, cern 1½c, cats ½c and pork 1½;c, with lard and ribs also weak and lower. Big coverings by shorts to secure profits caused a reaction. September wheat opened ½c lower at 7½¢c, and after a slight rally broke to 75c, closing with a recovery to 76c.

Orn sympathised with the weakness in the other pits, and the decline was aided by more favorable crop news, but a cold wave report and the government's action relative to the cholers strengthened the market action relative to the cholera strengthened the market in the last hour. The opening was %e lower, half of which was resovered before the closs. Oats followed the other markets, though not so rad-ically, and closed with a loss of only %c. ically, and closed with a loss of only &c.

Hog products were weak and lower at the start under the influence of the cholera epidemic. Wright, Cudahy and Hately were all heavy buyers. In spite of this, however, there were over two dips downward, but when the government's action became known there was a sharp rally. At the close September pork was 20c higher and ribe 2½c, while lard was lower.

ATHENS NEGROES

Lively Time.

OBJECTED TO THE TERM 'NEGRO'

ed by a Young White Minister nail Riot at a Church-Other News from the College City.

Athens, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)— Two ministers, who were conducting divine services in a church in Brooklyn, a suburb of this city, were attacked by their congre-gation last night and narrowly escaped

It was a negro church and a negro congregation, but one of the preachers was a white man and the other colored.

The white man was Rev. Andrew Weaver, a well-known young Methodist minister, and a graduate of the State uni-

After graduating from the university, three or four years ago, Mr. Weaver decided to go into the ministry, connecting himself with the north Georgia conference. He was recently transferred to a conference in another state, where he is now engaged in the service of the Lord. Rev. Mr. Weaver is on a visit to relatives living near this city, and the other day accepted an invitation to deliver a sermon last night to a negro congregation in Brooklyn, which is to Athens about what Buzzard Roost used to be to Birmingham. He went last night to fill his appointment and was found in the pulpit by Rev. Morgan Howard, colored.

In the course of his remarks he said:

In the course of his remarks he said: You negroes are better off here than you would be in any other place, and this is a much better country for you than Africa."

The word "negro" had not more than passed out at the open windows and died in the distance than strong looks of indignation began to meet each other over the church. One after another the seekers after distance than strong looks of indignation began to meet each other over the church. tion began to meet each other over the church. One after another the seekers after divine truths began to make their exit. It was evident that they had taken offense at being called negroes by the white minister and Rev. Howard, the negro preacher, arose at once and tried to explain that negro was only a qualifying term, the same as "white man," and that no offense was intended, but in a moment he was left exhausting his generous supply of lung power on vacant seats and echoing walls.

Both the white and colored ministers came down and followed the departing congregation into the yard, continuing their explanations, but no amount of tongue oll could heal their wounded dignity.

When the yard was reached a general fight ensued, the ministers holding the fort on one side and the congregation on the other. Early in the fray a large stone made an abrupt connection with Rev. Howard, the colored minister's head, laying him out. When he arose another member of the congregation rushed on him with a huge knife, cutting, going and coming, parting the flesh both ways. By the time Howard fell, exhausted from fearful gashes inflicted with stones and knives, Weaver, the white preacher, had made his escape, having received only slight injuries.

Quite a sensation has been caused by the affair, and warrants have been sworn out for the rioting churchgoers. These negroes have probably been reading from or listening to Tom Watson's race equality clap-trap.

Miss Sadie Scanlan Tonight.

This evening our theatergoers wil judge by themselves whether the high praises bestowed upon that young lady by the critics and the press of New York and Philadelphia, are exaggerated or not; whether she is equal to her brother or even superior as some say. The New York World, of last August 23a, said of Miss Scanlan, of her company and of her play:

"A crowded house greeted Sadie Scanlan, the sister of Comidian W. J. Scanlan, at Miner's People's theater last evening in her new Irish play, 'Nora Machree,' written by Charles T. Vincent.

MACON WILL TAKE NECESSARY STEPS

To Keep Trouble from Her Doors-T Way a Guilty Conscience Strikes in Macon-News and Gossip.

Macon, Ga., September 1.—(Special.)—
The cholern scare, although not rampant on the streets of Macon at this early day, is nevertheless apparent and already business men are talking of the probable effects of an epidemic upon the finances of the country. The Constitution representative was informed this morning by a member of the local board of health that the board was prepared to take all necessary steps toward quarantine and other measures should such action at any time be deemed to the best interests of the community. The official alluded to considers the location of Macon as quite unfortunate in the event of an outbreak of the epidemic in this country for the reason that the city occupies the position of an interior gateway for persons coming from the seaports of Brunswick and Savannah the seaports of Brunswick and Savanuah and refugees from those points would be most likely to first touch at Macon. The opening of the cotton season and the coming of cotton ships to the ports makes an infection likely at the ports, hence the opinion of the official in question.

Sandy Robinson and Sam Robinson are two Macon citizens of the Afro-American persuasion and on Tuesday morning the pair appeared at the city hall to answer before Recorder Freeman to the charge of fighting. It was shown that Sandy had in an ugly fit of temper opened a long gash in Sam's arm and he was accordingly sent up to the city court for trial. His case came up in the city court this morning and as Sam's evidence in the case was of considerable weight, he was called for and it was found that he was at work with the city convicts on the chaingang. How he came there is not known, but it appears that Sam's conscience probably told him that he was as guilty as Sandy and when he was dismissed by the recorder, instead of going home, he put himself in charge of the station sergeant and was locked up and went to the gang along with the others. This morning it was found that there was no sentence against him and he was told to go his way and sin no more. Sandy was found guilty and sentenced to a term of six monhs in the sang. a Guity Countience

There seems to be a great dearth of aldermanic timber in Macon just now. On the 1st of October the city clerk will open the books of registration for the election of four new aldermen to serve for three years each. Heretofore, when aldermanic elections have taken place candidates were in the field for months before hand ready for the fray. Up to this time not one candidate has made known his intention of making the race, but it is understood that there are enough aspirants to fill the vacancies and they will be made known in plenty of time to make the campaign a lively one.

In Uncte sam's Courts.

W. R. Brown and Henry Swearingen had a preliminary hearing this morning before United States Commissioner F. R. Martin on the charge of working in an illicit distillery. The evidence was too weak to establish a case and both cases were dismissed and the defendants discharged. Both were citizens of Dodge county.

Deputy Clerk Ceci Morgan, of the United States district court, will leave tomorrow for the north on a vacation tour of several weeks. During his absence his place will be filled by Commissioner Erwin, who has just returned from a visit to Porter Springs.

Burke-Bardis.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the nuptial ceremony of Mr. Ed W. Burke and Miss Effie Bardin was celebrated in the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Burke is a son of the Rev. J. W. Burke, of this city, and a young man known well and favorably both in Macon and elsewhere. Miss Bardin is a Macon favorite and a young lady who wears becomingly meany charms, both of chaisacter and person. The young groom is a member of the firm of J. W. Burke & Co., and is also the treasurer of the Macon and Northern Railroad Company.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. B. Jennings, pastor of the church. The marriage company were entertained in the evening at the residence of Mr. T. D. Tinsley, on College street, and Mr. and Mrs. Burke left on the 8:20 o'clock train on the Gergia road for northern points.

The Empire and Dublin Road.

The Evening News of today makes the announcement that the money is up and work will soon be commenced on the Empire and Dublin railroad, which is a line from Dublin to Fort Valley. The road is built and equipped from Empire to Hawkinsville, a distance of twelve miles, and is already in successful operation. The remainder of the road is from Empire to Dublin, twenty-eight miles, and the road is graded and equipped with crossties to within nine miles of the latter point. The road is also graded from Hawkinsville to Grovania, on the Georgia Southern and Florida, and from Grovania the line has been projected to Fort Valley, on the Southwestern road.

The building of this road will be of considerable benefit to Mocor for the southwestern road.

MacLean and Prescott.

The first legitimate and high-class attraction of the season will appear Monday and Tuesday, at night and at matines. R. D. MacLean and Marie Prescott are well known in our city and their performances have always attracted the elite of our theatergoers. Their visit, this year, will have a special interest, as it will be the last one, these two stars having decided to retire to private life after this season. This retirement seems strange when one considers that MacLean is a young man, having just risen to a prominent rank in his profession and attained success after years of hard work, and just at the moment when the disappearance of our greatest actors left the field to the young ones. But the death of his father, whose only heir he is, has placed him at the head of a large estate which claims all his time. Miss Prescott, his charming wife, will, of course, follow him in his retirement. They will appear here in "The Merchant of Venice," Romeo and Juliet" and in "The Duke's Wife," a production of James Sheridan Knowles, which will be presented with superb scenery and the richest costumes. AN OLD CASE,

H. C. Hartin Given $100 and Costs | Which Should Have Been Tried Before Recorder Jim Anderson.

COLONEL LIVINGSTON WAS A WITNESS

It Is Revived Again, and Will Be Tried Before Recorder Calboun To-morrow Morning.

Tomorrow morning Recorder Calhoun will try an old case that should have been settled when Judge Jim Anderson was city recorder. The case was re-entered on the police docket yesterday and the defendant of four years ago was notified to appear in police court and answering to the charge on which he failed to appear when it was first made.

Congressman Leonidas Livingston will be subpensed as a witness in the case, as he saw the difficulty which led to the arrest.

Many things conspire to make this antique case an interesting one.

W. N. Johnson is the defendant who will be tried tomorrow. Arrested at the same time with him was his brother, Elmore Johnson, who failed to appear in court, but who has since gone to appear before a higher tribunal than the recorder's court of Atlanta. Elmore Johnson was a young white man, well known in the city. He left here shortly after the case, which was made at the same time the one against his brother was put on the docket, and went to Chattanooga. There he killed Mr. Broyles, a brother of Captain R. A. Broyles, one of Fulton's candidates for the legislature. After this he went west and was killed in a railroad wreck in Texas. But his brother survived him and came back to Atlanta a few weeks ago. When the case was made the two Johnsons put. up $10.75 collateral each, for their appearance at court, but as they never came to court it was forfeited. When W. N. Johnson came back to Atlanta he thought of that $10.75 and he wrote to Mayor Hemphill about it, as he wanted it back. The letter was referred to the police department and Chief Connolly at once instructed that the case against Johnson be re-entered and he be summoned to court. This was done and tomorrow morning the case will be tried before Recorder Calhoun.

The facts that will be gone over in the trial tomorrow are about as follows: On the night of January 29, 1889, Patrolmen Ozborn and Hudson arrested Elmore Johnson in the alley running from Alabama street to the railroad for being drunk. Johnson resisted and his brother i
